WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1926.

Ex-Alderman Bellamy.

Ex-alderman Bellamy belonged to a generation of Edmonton business men, most of whom are not now in harness. He served the town and city on the council board for many years when this paper was first born. He will be missed by a very wide circle of acquaintanceship, extending to all parts of the district which trades at Edmonton.

The Motor Car Tax.

More than 63,000 motor licenses have been taken out in Alberta this year; 10,000 more than last.

With one automobile for each ten people in the province, Alberta would seem to be keeping up with the present trend.

Ten thousand new automobiles, at a thousand dollars each, mean that the tidy sum of $10,000,000 has been shipped out of this Province within the year for new cars.

The gas, oil, and replacement bills probably amount to as much, and most of this money, too, goes to the United States.

The motor car has come to stay, and to multiply, whatever the cost. But it does represent a tremendous export of money from any section of the country in which cars are not built, and where little of the fuel and oil are produced.

The automobile tax of the Province of Alberta last year more heavily than the Provincial Government. The tax, if it may be added, was paid voluntarily, and a good deal more cheerfully than the Government levies.

Where the Grain Goes.

The bureau of statistics at Ottawa has published some timely figures showing by what routes Canadian wheat is exported. For the seven-year period ending with last July the exports of Canadian wheat by Canadian and by U.S. ports were as follows:

By Canadian At Home

1918-1919 35,292,000

1919-1920 45,367,771

1920-1921 43,148,183

1921-1922 54,195,010

1922-1923 42,671,275

1923-1924 100,009,466

1924-1925 86,574,671

1925-1926 126,790,482

1926-1927 68,715,446

In addition to about 450,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat have gone out through Canadian seaports, while 525,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat have gone out via U.S. seaports.

A large quantity of United States grain of course goes out via Montreal and the St. Lawrence route every year. But that does not compensate for the diversion of Canadian grain to the U.S. routes and ports. This U.S. grain would have gone to Canada if the Canadian grain went through U.S. channels and outlets. Given sufficient facilities and competitive rates, Canada should export all its own grain from its own seaports and thus portion of the U.S. crop as well.

The westward shipment of prairie grain has both a direct and an indirect influence upon this diversion of Canadian grain traffic to U.S. seaports. Grain shipped to Vancouver and Prince Rupert goes to the U.S. via the Panama Canal. And the more the prairie crop that is shipped westward, the larger the proportion of Canadian eastbound grain that can be accommodated by Canadian lake vessels, railways and Atlantic ports.

Why Not Make a Try-Out.

Albertans hope that the transcontinental railroads will find out by running trial trains that they can haul Alberta coal to Ontario at rates which would not deplete their treasures and would enable the coal to be sold there in competition with U.S. fuel.

With the Provincial Department of Railways give a lead in that kind of experimentation; by borrowing some dump cars, running down a few train loads of McMurtry tar sand, and thus finding out at just what price that commodity can be hauled.

The market in Ontario for Alberta coal is no more assured than the market in Alberta and the other western provinces for some surfacing material which will waterproof a properly constructed and well rounded dirt roadway.

If water is kept from sinking into it, a dirt road made of tar sand will stand. Provided the surface will shed water, what material is underneath the surface is of minor importance. "Save the surface and you save all" holds in regard to a road as it does to the walls of a building.

Our city streets and roads have been mud-holes ever since the last snowfall. The eastern Ontario buses, U.S. and the alternative costs too much money. And in the one case as in the other, the freight bill is the prohibitive item in making up the laid-down cost of the road.

The transcontinental railways can haul Alberta coal to Ontario at competitive prices without actually losing money, they will share with every other interest the indirect benefits to follow from the development of the mining industry in this province.

The G. & W. R. and G. W. R. can lay down McMurtry tar sand at Edmonton at a price which would make street and road improvement practicable, that railway, as well as other interests, would share in the benefits following the creation of a great industrial enterprise at McMurtry and the construction of city and country roadways which would accommodate traffic at all seasons at minimum costs.

Manhood

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Some times we all wonder as I see men with their hearts being so easily gains. Each such man seems to strive to impress their natures conquerors to be. If ever from our worst we shall be free? Or are we destined to remain like the victim or the master strain Which had no vision of nobility?

Man could be gentle, kind and brave and true. He could be fair, whatever his race or creed. Yet pressed by selfish interests he will do. Such things which honest men will blush to read. These less pure motives will bring me shame. Shall stamp me brutal where I could be fine.

Man could be gentle, kind and brave and true.

Auto Traffic in 1950

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Speed, and more speed, is the trend of auto traffic regulations.

Many states have raised the speed limit on state roads from forty miles an hour and some have set a maximum at which autos are allowed to travel.

If the present trend keeps until 1950, there are likely to be no cars on the roads traveling faster than 60 miles an hour.

All roads will have high banked turns like the turns on the highway bankings will begin half a mile from the turn.

Highways will have to be built on each side of the road to keep the crops from being blown over by the wind created by speeding traffic.

Intersections will be eliminated because of the speed at which machines will pass the point that broadcast the merits of the intersection.

Because all the roads will be smooth and hard surfaces there will be no bumps or ruts, making bodies raised high above the ground necessary, autos will be forced to travel the road and will go past like three-minute time-lapses.

One-way highways from coast to coast will be built.

In order to prevent each speeding car from killing its quota of citizens, the speed limit will be increased to 60 miles an hour.

Qualifying trials will be held to see if cars are not fast enough to travel at 60 miles an hour. Each car will be given a ticket admitting it only to those highways it is deemed to be fit to travel.

On the highway a driver who falls below two miles a minute will be arrested for obstructing the traffic.

Queen Marie Eats Corn First Night Out at Sea

Royal Suite Astar Early—Queens Takes Morning Dip In Ship's Plunge

Associated Press

ON BOARD S.S. LEVITHIAN Oct. 13.—Queen Marie of Romania is on her way to Canada and the United States. The big ship will go to New York on Friday and return a rain-soaked town from aglow and the cruiser "Horthy" of the Hungarian Squadron brilliantly illuminated by the lights of the city upon the arrival of the United Fleet merchant marine.

Capt. George H. Hartley, commander of the United States lines fleet, said that all the passengers were drawn up to greet the royal guest and her party. The Romanian Queen, Queen Marie, Princess Ileana, Prince Constantine, and members of the entourage came aboard.

There was no dressing for dinner. It was a simple meal, and the party sat down to the private dining room of the royal suite. On the menu were such favorite features as steaks, eggs, etc.

Queen Marie was up at 6:45 o'clock this morning after a long night's sleep, had cup of tea and later breakfasted. The queen was in the ship's plunge when it was 8 o'clock.

So far as the royal party is concerned the trip across the Atlantic will be a short one, as the queen has been on the ocean since Aug. 20.

For as far as drinks are concerned, the queen told the master of the ship, "Always have plenty of ice water, never drink tea or coffee, never water, then let me have hot tea."

ESTABLISHING a record in Edmonton construction circles, and bringing to the citizens of Alberta's capital one of the finest retail stores in the province, the Carter, Halls, Aldinger Co., Ltd., have handed over the new Woodward store to the owner, and a corps of Woodward assistants are today preparing the new structure for the opening.

Built by local contractors, using local labor, and, where possible, local materials, the new Woodward store is as much an Edmonton product as it is possible to make a building of this character.

Although foundations have been put in for a ten story structure, only three floors have been erected at the present time, but the structural steel and reinforced concrete store is one of the most up-to-date in the West, while the spaces between the columns being exceptionally large, give the maximum of floor space and light.

Two spacious entrances are provided for the general public, one opening on to 101st street, and the other on to 102nd avenue. They are located so that the store may be enlarged at any time and they will still serve the public at the most strategic points.

With 60,000 square feet of store space, the latest designs of electric lighting fixtures, modern heating systems, show windows which are unequalled anywhere in the city, giving opportunity for exceptional window displays, and with beautiful floor and window finishes in all departments, the new store embodies every up-to-date feature of a modern departmental store.

Ceilings are high, ventilation is excellent, and the basement with terrazzo floor and faced with polished granite from British Columbia, is one of the finest store basements in Canada.

Every piece of material going into the construction of the new building was thoroughly inspected. Only first class materials were used throughout. Every possible up-to-date feature in departmental store construction was utilized, and the result is that Woodward's Limited will open with a modern fireproof building, stocked with a full stock of new goods in every line, and ready to give Edmonton a service second to none.

Drinking and Petting Bouts Products of Co-Education

Moderator at Ottawa Stirs Up Conference

Denounces "Unspeakable Things" At Capital's Collegiate Institute

Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—Co-education is showing its head in drinking and "petting" parties by the mere youths and girls of Canada, Rev. Dr. E. B. Wyllie, moderator of the Ottawa Presbyterians, told the General Council of the Evangelical Church of Canada, believes. The moderator made this declaration Tuesday, following a meeting here of the pre-arranged conference of Montreal and Ottawa Presbyterians and which was charged that the Dominion's secondary educational system was not conducive to good morals in adolescent pupils.

At the meeting, he denounced "the co-education system which does not fit the best at dances and socials, but fits the worst at institutes students, but in an interview he expressed the belief that the school system must stand alone in the capital alone. He objected to co-education because it would be taught the few hours in school for the large student body while after school the great majority of the division were not sufficient to give them adequate time to the moral instruction and character building which should be given to the un-unspeakable."

Attacking Staff
When asked if he had ever before the pre-arranged conference in connection with a proposed conference of all the educational institutions in Ottawa, Dr. Wyllie made it clear that he was not in favor of the conference of the collegiate institutions of the city. His argument, however, was that the night dances concerning the night dances of the pupils and the un-unspeakable things were un-unspeakable.

Chairman E. H. Prentiss of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute, came to the defense of the pupils with a speech which underlined Dr. Wyllie's. "In the 14 years I have been connected with the institute," he said, "I never heard a word of Dr. Wyllie's about high school dances and always when I heard him speak of the un-unspeakable, his daughter was there, he said."

Moving Planned
A meeting of the delegates board is to be held at the institute board room on Oct. 15, when Dr. Wyllie will be present to discuss the conduct of the conduct of the conduct of the pupils.

Dr. A. M. Hill, of Vernon, Que., declared that so far as he was concerned, there was no danger to the morals of the youthful pupils.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
JUDITH MARTIN, a new member of the senior class, is kissed by a strange man in the station, who turns out to be Eric, Will's best sweethearts of MYRA ALDRICH a soprano singer, and Eric's boarding house.

Eric is shocked at the kiss but does not know that Judith is the girl. Both she and Will withdraw from Eric. Will has thought Judith a student of Dr. PETER DORN, astronomer.

Eric still believes her to be a student and unknowingly signs up for her.

He climbs to Judith's window and calls out to her. She flicks the door for Myra and is soon aware of the dress she has put on a man passing the house.

Will Wetherell takes her to go to the movies. She is a fascinating widow, and she accepts.

Eric is dumbfounded when he walks into Horace class for the first time and sees Judith.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

The class is very curious.

Twins Eric and Will are curious.

Eric shot a perplexed look at Judith.

Following the dressmaker's in store, Eric and Will walk to the college drugstore after her shopping spree, and come out with small packages which she puts in her pocket. Just as Dr. Dorn rounds on them, Eric and Will run off with her.

"We'll wait a moment while you have some pipe tobacco, we can walk back to the campus together," Eric says.

Dr. Dorn is surprised to see him again, but he had looked at Judith eyes.

"Pipe talk is not long in coming," he says.

For a second the man was taken aback, then he burst into a cool, smiling eyes. "And where, may I ask, did you get that matinee notice?" he asks, referring to the one who Mrs. Gerhart sent him.

He wants to know whether he was a good enough at lunch yesterday.

"I heard my name mentioned. When I asked, he believed it was the law," his voice was complacent.

"What?" asked Judith, somewhat sharply.

"Because young Wetherell doesn't stop much laughing over his humiliations with the members of the faculty," he replied.

"Eric, you are a bore," she retorted, then burst out laughing. "And where, may I ask, did you get that matinee notice?" he asks, referring to the one who Mrs. Gerhart sent him.
